

The lighting reform implemented at the Rautatientori metro station in Helsinki brought a significant improvement in the amount and quality of light. Later, Valtavalo has renewed lighting in several other metro stations.

